

A NEW ENTERPRISE FOR COFIO LLYWELYN

The Cofio Llywelyn Society are hoping to put up a memorial to the men of Llywelyn's army who died in 1282 by treachery, after coming south to support Llywelyn, where they camped on the present Builth Wells Golf Course.

The Society has the design, and also the support of the Builth Wells Golf Club, but now they need the money – several thousand pounds.

The well-known designer and engraver, Ieuan Rees, has provided this beautiful design:

In the New Year they will organise a Crowdfunding Account but, in the meantime, they can collect cash or they would welcome cheques sent to their Treasurer:

Sybil Davies, 2 Brombil Cottages, Margam, Port Talbot SA13 2SR

or BACS payments to their Business Account:

Our Grandmothers' Peace

REMEMBERING : CELEBRATING : ACHIEVING

The Women of Wales' Appeal to the Women of America 1924 and to the Women of the World 2024

After the huge loss of loved ones during the First World War 390,296 women in Wales signed a petition asking the women of America to help establish the League of Nations as a way of avoiding future wars.

They organised themselves to go to every farm and house in Wales to urge their fellow women to support this Peace Petition. By 1924 65% of all the women of Wales and Monmouthshire had signed.

The descendants of the original signatories, both women and men, have started to work with local community groups in different parts of Wales to uncover the stories of their grandmothers, their unmeasurable loss and the story of how they became missionaries of peace.

If your grandmother didn't live in Wales, what was her story at the end of WW1 and in the 1920s?

The chest containing the petition has been tracked down to the Smithsonian Museum in Washington. Heddwch Nain/Mamgu wants to see the chest's contents digitalised so that communities can trace their grandmothers. We hope to arrange exhibitions and events that celebrate the original work and use it to inspire today's generation with the spirit of their grandmothers.

There is a current petition, motivated by the 1923-24 petition, calling for the United Nations to be a much more effective body to prevent wars in today's world.

Please join us to make this an all-Wales project reaching out to women and men world-wide who want peace.
